PITCHED BAITLE IN THE STREETS

White Man Killed, Another Seriousl ounded-Putsuit, Capture, and Lynching of Four Negroes.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

LUTTON FORCE, VA., October 17.—A party sight negroes came up from Big Island the 9.30 train this morning with the wed intention of "taking the town." by got drunk, armed themselves with a ce of pistols each, and paraded the sets in regular weatern desperado style, triahing their weapons and cursing and eatening all who approached them.

A HOT FIGHT. The citizens formed a posse and attempted to disarm them. They resisted, and a galar pitched battle occurred.

The fight began on Reilroad street in cont of the Wickham House and was continued on down the railroad as far as Iron Gate, where the rioters had been headed

The battle became desperate, resulting in the mortally wounding of Fred. Wilkinson and the instant killing of Philip Bowling, citizens of Clifton Forge, both being the rioters, Charles Miller, who killed Bowling, and Robert Burton, who wounded Wilkinson, are both wounded and captured. Robert Scott, another of the riot ers, is captured.

A posse of citizens are in hot pursuit of the fugitives, who are making their way towards Gien Wilton.

After a long clase five of the negro des peradoes were captured, brought back here, and lodged in jail.

At 8:30 P. M. the city is full of excited people, many armed with Winchesters, and the greatest excitement prevails. The railroad-men have notified the dispatchers not to allow the departure of freight trains until after midnight.

AWAITING THEIR DOOM. William Scott, a desperate character and the leader of the outlaws, is in jail badly wounded quietly awaiting his doom. To m is chained Charles Miller. There are two others of the outlaws similarly con fined in an adjoining cell, and these four men realize in silence their approaching end. Bob Scott, another of the gang, lies all shot to pieces at Iron Gate. THE MAN KILLED

P. A. Bowling leaves a wife and one child. He is a son of Dr. Bowling, of Scottsville, where his remains will be sent in the morning. The saloons have been closed and ere the dawn of morning the lifeless bodies will no doubt be found dangling from limbs and riddled with

At 10:15 P. M. the mob attacked the city jail, overpowered the guard, and took the four negro rioters out and hung them to the railroad bridge. Their bodies were then riddled with builets.

DANVILLE'S "O" SENSATION. A Leading Citizen Charged with Writing Letters to a Widow Signed " 0."

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

DANVILLE, VA., October 17,—George W.
Martin, a prominent merchant of this city,
was before United States Commissioner Coleman to-day on a warrant charging him with having sent obscene, lewd, and lascivious letters through the mail. The evidence in the case was substantially as follows: Several days ago Mrs. Worley, a handsome widow lady living in North Danville, received a letter signed "O," making a proposition to her to accompany the writer to Lynchburg for a pleasant trip, Mrs. Worley believed that the writer was a man who owed her money, and wrote a reply telling him he had better pay his debts.

WHO IS "O"? [Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

WHO IS "O"? She took her reply to the post-office and requested the clerk to advise her as to who called for the letter addressed to "O." In a short time a small colored boy named McCoy presented an order for the letter. He was questioned as to who sent him for the letter and said he did not know the man's name. The order was not signed, but the letter was delivered.

The boy testified to-day that he delivered the letter to Mr. Martin, whom he pointed out.

In reply to this letter of Mrs. Worley's,
"O" wrote another letter telling her she was mistaken in supposing that he was one of her debtors and insisted that she accompany him to Lynchburg. Mrs. Worley replied and mailed her letter in a box on the street. She then went to the post-office yesterday morning and told the assistant postmaster to be sure and find out who received the letter.

Before the letter reached the office, however, another boy called for "O" mail and presented an unsigned order theretor. He was asked who sent him, and said a man at the market, whose name he did not know. The assistant postmaster then followed the boy down the street; saw him go up to Mr. Martin; heard Martin ask him it he got the letter; heard the boy say he did not, and saw Martin give the boy a piece of money.

The defence proved that the letters signed "O." and the orders for "O's" were not in Martin's handwriting, and Mr. Martin swore that he was impocent. He denied the story told by the boy. He admitted that boy No. 2 met him on the street and told him that there was no mail for him, but said that he had sent the boy to get a letter he was expecting from his mother, Mrs. O. H. Martin. Boy No. 2 has not yet been found.

PROMINENT CHURCHMAN.

Mr. Mastin has borne a high character.

Mr. Martin has borne a high character and is connected by marriage with a large and influential family here. He protests his innocence, and his friends here cannot believe that he is guilty. The case was sent on to the grand jury. Mr. Martin is a prominent member of the Methodist church and has been active in temperance Obtains to the Old Custom.

There are many families of Israelites in this city who still adhere rigidly to the ancient custom of "dwelling in booths" during the Feast of the Tabernacles, and among these is that of Mr. Joseph Conn, who resides at 137 east Main street. In the home of this bospitable Israelite has been constructed of cedar and roses of variegared nue a most beautiful booth, in the centre of which is a prettily-decorated table, where dine the family and their friends. Last night the cozy little retreat presented quite a pretty picture, while around the festive board sat the family. Rev. Mr. Sapir, of the Mayo-Street synagogue, and a few others who were there by special invitation. The feast will continue until next Sunday at eventide.

The Baltimore's Eatlers Attached in Santiago—A Flerce Fight—One American Killed—Five Others Wounded,

[By Anglo-American cable to the Dispatch.]

Santiago, Chies, October 17.—The antiametican feeling, which is very pronounced, reached a climax last evening in the streats of Valparaiso. A number of sailors of the United States steamer Baltimore, now in that port, were walking along the street when they were confronted by some sailors of a Chilean manning and the street when they were confronted by some sailors of a Chilean manning at the school. The taternacle will be revoked.

There were six conversions at the Westmechanical Society and the Chamber of Commerce appointed to carry out, if prac-ticable, the proposition to give a carbecue to the farmers of Virginia at the approach-ing State Fair, stating that after careful consideration the committee deemed it impracticable to prepare and properly serve a barbecue on the scale proposed, and that they were therefore reluctantly obliged to recommend the abandonment of the proposition.

QUESTION OF SPECIAL BATES. Alfred Q. Powell.
There were six conversions at the WestEnd Methodist church Friday night. The meeting was conducted by Adam Discont, of Richmond. A large congregation was in attendance. The meeting will continue this week. The same report also conveved to the chamber a request that it would use its nituence with the railroads of Virginia to save them issue tickets to the Fair from soints in Virginia at the same rate that he railroads of North Carolina had made form points in that State to the Raleig exposition, namely—upon a mileage rat f 1 cent per mile for the distance travelle
